Extending the lifetime of oil and gas pipelines

Polyflow pipeline rehabilitation with Twaron reinforced thermoplastic pipe

Twaron Reinforced Thermoplastic Pipes (RTP) are characterized by their corrosion resistance, high-pressure rating, low weight and high flexibility. Available in long lengths, and having reliable couplings, superior UV resistance and high durability, Twaron RTP’s form a state-of-the-art pipeline solution in applications for transport of oil, gas and water.

For more information: www.teijinaramid.com